Hours of work provisions under the Meat Industry Award

The AMIC receives many calls from members asking what they are required to pay an employee for the hours they work. It depends upon the days and times that they are going to be working, as well as whether the employee is to be employed on a full-time, part-time or casual basis.

The first thing to know is that the Fair Work Act 2009 contains the minimum standard with respect to hours of work, which is one of the ten provisions of the National Employment Standards (NES).

The NES provides that the maximum weekly hours which a full-time employee can be required to work is 38 ordinary hours, plus reasonable additional hours (otherwise known as overtime hours) over a specified period.

The NES also provides an ability for an employer to average the ordinary hours of work over more than a week, but this would depend upon what is contained in the relevant modern award.

Hours of Work

Clause 31 of the Meat Industry Award 2010 (Meat Award) is split up into three categories for the purpose of the spread of ordinary hours as follows:

- Meat processing establishment – 6am to 8pm Monday to Friday, however, by agreement between a majority or with an individual employee, this spread can be extended by one hour either side (i.e. 5am to 9pm) plus, Saturday and Sunday can be included as ordinary hours.
- Meat manufacturing establishment – 6am to 6pm Monday to Saturday.
- Meat retail establishments (includes meat wholesalers) – 4am to 9pm Monday to Friday, 4am to 6pm Saturday and 8am to 6pm on Sunday. (There are different provisions for the spread of hours for loadout employees in meat retail/wholesale establishments).

For all of these establishments the Meat Award prescribes the following parameters:

- The ordinary hours of work (i.e. not including overtime hours) are not to exceed 38 in any week. However the Meat Award allows for the averaging of ordinary hours over a one, two, three or four weekly period. This means that the 152 ordinary hours (4 x 38) can be arranged in different ways week to week. For example, if you put an employee on a fortnightly roster (76 ordinary hours), the ordinary hours could be 30 one week and 46 the next week.

- The maximum number of ordinary hours that you can work an employee on any day, excluding the unpaid lunch break, is ten.
- Any hours worked outside of the employee's rostered ordinary hours would be overtime and paid at the relevant penalty rate.
- Penalty rates apply for ordinary hours worked on a weekend.

Note: Different provisions apply to shift workers under the Meat Award.

Meal Breaks

Clause 32 of the Meat Award specifies the meal breaks provisions, which states: 'No employee will work for longer than five hours without a minimum 30 minute unpaid meal break. Any alternative arrangements between the employer and the employee must be by mutual agreement between the parties.'

This means that the unpaid meal break can be more than 30 minutes in duration. The Meat Award only mentions one other break, which only applies to certain types of employees in certain types of meat processing establishments, which is a ten minute paid rest break.

Overtime

As mentioned above, any work performed outside the spread of ordinary hours must be paid for at overtime rates. However, in a meat processing establishment only, any work performed by an employee prior to the spread of ordinary hours that is continuous with ordinary hours for the purpose, for example, of getting the plant in a state of readiness for production work is to be regarded as part of the 38 ordinary hours of work.

Hours of work provisions under the Meat Industry Award

For all establishments, the penalty rate for overtime is time and a half for first three hours and double time thereafter. However, any overtime worked on a Sunday in a meat processing establishment must be paid at double time with a minimum payment of four hours.

Make up time

An employee may elect, with the consent of the employer, to work make-up time under which the employee takes time off during ordinary hours, and works those hours at a later time, during the spread of ordinary hours provided by the award.

Time off Instead of Payment for Overtime

The Meat Award also allows for an employer and employee to agree to the employee taking time off in lieu of being paid for overtime that the employee has worked. Contact the AMIC or refer to subclause 36.2 of the Meat Award for the specific provisions regarding this option.

Ordinary Hours Roster

The Meat Award requires the employer to post up a roster in the premises, showing the starting and finishing times for the ordinary hours for its employees. This requires the employer to show how the 38 ordinary hours (in the case of full-time employees) is spread over which days of the week and the number of ordinary hours on each day.

If you have any questions regarding hours of work or any other matter regarding the Meat Award please don't hesitate to contact the AMIC.

Consultation Requirements

Where an employer proposes to change an employee's regular roster or ordinary hours of work, the Meat Award (subclause 9.2) requires the employer to consult with the employee or employees affected and their representative, if any about the proposed change. This provides the employees the chance to give their views about the possible effect of the changes, however, the employer has the final decision on the change to the roster.

Audiometric Testing Provision Delayed Again

The introduction of mandatory audiometric testing to protect people against noise-induced hearing loss at work has again be postponed by the NSW Government. SafeWork NSW has approved an exemption for businesses from clause 58(2) of the Work Health and Safety Regulation 2011 until 31st December 2017.

This requirement was originally set to commence in NSW on 1 January 2014, but was postponed for twelve months and then was postponed again to start on 1st January 2017.

In the meantime SafeWork NSW has told businesses to refer to the Code of Practice: Managing Noise and Preventing Hearing Loss at Work for further information. This code applies to all types of work and all workplaces covered by the work health and safety legislation, where there is the potential for exposure to noise that can contribute to hearing loss. It includes practical guidance on meeting the requirement to conduct audiometric testing in some circumstances.

Contact the AMIC if you have any questions regarding this subject. Further information is also available through the secure section of the AMIC website www.amic.org.au

Underinsurance – a trap for butchers

JMD ROSS
INSURANCE BROKERS

You work hard to build your business and insure it to safeguard your premises and your financial security.

But are you fully covered? Many small businesses risk their assets by not having enough or the right insurance to protect them from a loss.

AMIC's preferred insurance partner, JMD Ross Insurance Brokers, can conduct a free review of your coverage to ensure it is adequate.

Here are some tips to minimise the risk of underinsurance:

- Get your property valued so you insure it for its true worth. Rebuilding and sale costs are not the same.
- Write an inventory of all your equipment – what would it cost to replace everything?
- Does your business interruption cover reflect your business's current turnover?

A JMD Ross policy offers you:

- An automatic additional 20% increase in the sum insured at no cost, as a buffer against under-insurance

- Broad cover for full accidental damage
- Cover for offsite storage locations – you don't need to remember to tell us about them
- Automatic full theft cover for contents and stock up to the sum insured
- Automatic glass cover at no extra cost
- Transit/deliveries anywhere in Australia up to $25,000 at no extra cost
- Automatic general property cover up to the $25,000 transit limit at no extra cost
- No underinsurance clause in business interruption cover when BAS is provided
- Money cover automatically includes theft by employees.

You have worked hard to establish a profitable business. The cost of adequately insuring your assets is negligible compared to the potential loss if you are underinsured.

Phone Jessica Denver at JMD Ross Insurance Brokers on (02) 9478 0816 or email jdenver@jmdross.com.au for advice on your insurances.
